

Two Voices

Finally a collection of duets from the best-selling author of Winning Monologues for Young Actors and her granddaughter. These humorous and thoughtful scenes present distinctive viewpoints on issues meant to provoke and inspire discussion as well as to entertain. Most roles can be played by either gender. The short length of each scene makes it easy for students to memorize their lines. Sample titles include How Not to Get a Job, Cutesy-Wutesy Doggie-Woggie, The Alibi, My Rotten Roommate, Prince Not-So-Charming, The Tooth Fairy Conspiracy, Mall Survey, Hair Salon Gossip, That's How Rumors Start, Backstage Pass, and Goody, Two Shoes. Fifty-four scenes in all. For use in a wide variety of settings, from speech contests and auditions to acting practice or comedy revue shows. A valuable resource for teachers and theatre libraries.

Lyrics to Two Voices by Barbie. Some where to find a friend like you. Some how when your around the sky is / Always blue. The way we talk, the things you say. The Two Voices. by Alfred Tennyson. A still small voice spake unto me, Thou art so full of misery, Were it not better not to be?
